Group PowerPoint Presentation on Content Management Systems and Software

Please note: you are required to read two texts before devising your PowerPoint presentation: 1) Edward Tufte's "PowerPoint is Evil" online at http://www.wired.com/wired/archive/11.09/ppt2.html, and 2) Ian Parker's "Absolute PowerPoint" available in the directory /teaching/archive/

Other possibly interesting links:
http://www.actden.com/pp/
http://www.electricteacher.com/tutorial3.htm

Due Date: Friday, November 11th
Format: Powerpoint that is not evil; all group members involved; place a copy of the presentation in each group member's /482 directory
Length: 10-15 minutes for your presentation

Group 1: drupal.org
Group 2: moodle.org (additional examples at: http://staff.washington.edu/rimas and https://moodle.atlas.uiuc.edu/)
Group 3: Mallard (see https://mallard2.cites.uiuc.edu/)
Group 4: Illinois Compass sites (see www.cites.uiuc.edu/edtech/teaching_learning/compass)

Your group is responsible for presenting a description of your content-management software along with a thoughtful, critical analysis. As a result of listening to and watching your group's presentation, other students in the class should learn both how your package works and how it functions as a technology where writing is employed, used, and framed. Please work hard to include all members into the work for this project.

As class time will not be devoted to preparation for this project, you will need to meet and/or connect with your group members in person and/or online to put your presentation together.